Monologue:

Preface:

Shawn is talking to his buddies about his dream bike

Okay, so I'm telling you right now, if I somehow save enough money for a SurRon this summer, my life is basically complete.

Those things are actually insane. They go, like, stupid fast for an electric bike. Which honestly feels illegal, but apparently it's not.

And now every time I see one online, I get mad because they're SO expensive.

There's this other bike called a Yozma, though, and it's kinda like the cheaper version.

It's smaller, but honestly still pretty sick. Same black and red look, still fast, still sounds good.

But nah, I'm getting a SurRon eventually. I don't even care how long it takes.

Like I'll work every weekend if I have to.

(Big smug smile)
