

INT. CLASSROOM - DAY

A girl walks up to Tim's desk. TANJA (20s), one of his students and April's best friend.

TANJA

Hey Mr. Fisher. I actually, um.. I was just wanted to ask you about April. She didn't come home last night and I'm a little worried.

TIM

Why would I know where April is?

Tanja is uncomfortable and speaks in a low voice.

TANJA

April is my best friend. She told me.

A beat.

TIM

Told you what, exactly?

TANJA

Don't make me say it. I'm just worried about her.

TIM

I'm a happily married man. I really think you've got the wrong idea.

TANJA

You were with her last night.

TIM

I have an appointment. Excuse me.

He stands up but she persists.

TANJA

Is she in trouble or something?

TIM

I've already told you several times I know nothing about it. This conversation is over.

Tim walks past Tanja and exits.

Tanja's eyes follow him out.
